Project Summary

In New Jersey, the grounds for contesting an election,¹ and the procedures and rules governing voting by mail (“Vote By Mail Law”²) are contained in Title 19.³ An election “may be contested” based upon one or more of the nine grounds enumerated in N.J.S. 19:29-1,⁴ including “[w]hen . . . legal votes rejected at the polls [are] sufficient to change the result.”⁵ By contrast, N.J.S. 19:63-26 directs that “[n]o election shall be held invalid due to any irregularity or failure in the preparation or forwarding of any mail-in ballots.”⁶

The In re Election for Atlantic County Freeholder District 3 2020 General Election decision addressed whether N.J.S. 19:29-1 “appl[ies] to an election pursuant to the Vote By Mail Law.”⁷ The Court in that case held that, if relevant to a contest claim, “N.J.S.A. 19:63-26 operates as a rebuttable presumption [when a] contestant . . . assert[s] one or more of the grounds under N.J.S.A. 19:29-1.”⁸

The Commission released a Tentative Report in October 2022 proposing modifications to N.J.S. 19:29-1 and N.J.S. 19:63-26 that were intended to clarify that N.J.S. 19:63-26 creates a rebuttable presumption when vote by mail elections are contested pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1.⁹ Following outreach to knowledgeable and interested individuals and organizations, an Update Memorandum was presented to the Commission in April 2023 summarizing the feedback received.¹⁰

After additional research and outreach related to the jurisdictional reach of the Election Law Enforcement Commission (“ELEC”),¹¹ the Commission considered Revised Draft Tentative Reports in October, November, and December of 2023, proposing additional modifications to N.J.S. 19:29-1, N.J.S. 19:29-2,¹² and the Campaign Contributions and Expenditures Reporting

Act¹³ (“Reporting Act”).¹⁴ A Revised Tentative Report was released in December 2023, and outreach was again conducted to knowledgeable and interested individuals.¹⁵

The Appendix sets forth recommended modifications to N.J.S. 19:29-1 and 19:63-26 reflecting the Atlantic County Election holding, and to N.J.S. 19:29-2 and the Reporting Act clarifying the scope of the ELEC’s jurisdiction over election contest claims premised on Reporting Act violations.

Statutes Considered¹⁶

N.J.S. 19:29-1 provides, in relevant part, that:

The nomination or election of any person to any public office or party position, or the approval or disapproval of any public proposition, may be contested by the voters of this State or of any of its political subdivisions affected thereby upon 1 or more of the following grounds:

e. When illegal votes have been received, or legal votes rejected at the polls sufficient to change the result;¹⁷

N.J.S. 19:63-26 provides, in relevant part, that:

No election shall be held to be invalid due to any irregularity or failure in the preparation or forwarding of any mail-in ballots prepared or forwarded pursuant to the provisions of P.L.2009, c. 79 (C.19:63-1 et al.).¹⁸

Background

The Atlantic County Election decision concerned an election contest filed by the unsuccessful candidate (Parker) in the November 3, 2020, election for Third District

¹⁶ Additional modifications are recommended to N.J.S. 19:29-2, which sets forth the requirements for filing a petition to contest an election, and in the Reporting Act. See infra at pp. 20-23.

¹⁷ N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:29-1.

¹⁸ N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:63-26.

Commissioner.¹⁹ Parker filed a claim to “invalidate the election because a number of voters received defective ballots that did not include the Third District Commissioner election.”²⁰ Parker contended that enough “legal votes [were] rejected at the polls . . . to change the results,” and asserted that the election result should be invalidated pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1(e).²¹

The winner of the election (Witherspoon) responded that N.J.S. 19:63-26 “barred Parker’s challenge because the statute limits the court’s ability to overturn an election due to irregularities [in the preparation or forwarding of mail-in ballots] and supersedes N.J.S. 19:29-1.”²²

The trial court rejected Witherspoon’s statutory argument, concluding that “the issues raised . . . were . . . fundamental errors that may have altered the outcome of the election because voters were denied the right to vote.”²³ The court found that voters who received defective ballots were “properly characterized as ‘rejected legal votes,’”²⁴ and held that “Parker met his burden to set aside the election” pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1(e).²⁵

Analysis

On appeal, Witherspoon raised the same objections, including whether the defective mail-in ballots constituted “rejected legal votes,” and the impact of the prohibition in N.J.S. 19:63-26 on a vote by mail election contested pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1.²⁶

- “Rejected” Legal Votes

With respect to whether the defective ballots fell within the scope of N.J.S. 19:29-1(e), the Atlantic County Election Court stated that “[a] vote has been ‘rejected’ . . . ‘in any situation in which qualified voters are denied access to the polls’ . . . or . . . ‘through no fault of their own’ [are] ‘prohibited from voting for a specific candidate by some irregularity in the voting procedures.’”²⁷

Concluding that “[t]he defective ballots sent to 335 voters provided them no opportunity to vote for any candidate in the Third District County Commissioner race,” the Court found that, “[r]egardless of their intent, these voters were disenfranchised.”²⁸ Therefore, the defective ballots were “rejected legal votes” pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1(e).²⁹

- Interaction Between N.J.S. 19:29-1 and N.J.S. 19:63-26

The Court observed that whether “N.J.S.A. 19:29-1 [applies] to an election pursuant to the Vote By Mail Law” was an “issue of first impression,” and considered both the canons of statutory interpretation and the intent of the Legislature.³⁰

To “discern[] . . . legislative intent,” the Appellate Division examined N.J.S. 19:63-26 in the context of Title 19, as well as “the legislative objectives sought to be achieved by enacting the statute.”³¹ When interpreting election laws, courts “must . . . construe [statutes] in a common-sense way that accords with the legislative purpose” of favoring “the enfranchisement of voters.”³²

Guided by these principles, the Court determined that the Legislature did not “intend[] to eliminate the ability to contest an election pursuant to N.J.S.A. 19:29-1 merely because the vote occurred by mail.”³³ Rather, the Court favored the Attorney General’s suggested interpretation, which it found “[h]armoniz[ed] N.J.S.A. 19:63-26 and N.J.S.A. 19:29-1 and read[the] statutes in pari materia with the overall scheme” of the election laws.³⁴

The Atlantic County Election Court aligned its holding with the position of the Attorney General³⁵ that “N.J.S.A. 19:63-26 establishes a presumption that an irregularity or failure in the preparation of forwarding of any mail-in ballot will not invalidate an election,” which may be rebutted “by asserting one or more of the grounds under N.J.S.A. 19:29-1 as a basis to invalidate the election.”³⁶

October 2022 Tentative Report

The Commission released a Tentative Report in October 2022 (“October 2022 Tentative Report”) proposing modifications to N.J.S. 19:63-26 and N.J.S. 19:29-1 that reflected the holding in Atlantic County Election.³⁷ The proposed modifications to N.J.S. 19:63-26 clarified that the statute creates a rebuttable presumption when an election is contested pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1.³⁸

April 2023 Update Memorandum

Following the release of the October 2022 Tentative Report, outreach was conducted to knowledgeable individuals and organizations. Alternative language was proposed by Scott D. Salmon, Esq., who represented Thelma Witherspoon in the Atlantic County Election case.⁴⁰ The feedback and alternative language from Mr. Salmon was presented to the Commission in an Update Memorandum prepared for the April 20, 2023, Commission Meeting.⁴¹

Mr. Salmon also informed Staff that the scope of N.J.S. 19:29-1(h) was impacted by the formation of the ELEC, which has jurisdiction over claims arising under the Reporting Act.⁴² He provided two decisions in which the courts “abrogated this provision to ‘injunction actions filed during a campaign or criminal actions.’”⁴³

During the April 2023 Commission meeting, the Commission authorized continued research and outreach in this area.⁴⁴ The Commission also directed Staff to review recent legislation in the area of election law, including the Elections Transparency Act, to determine its impact on the Vote By Mail law.⁴⁵

⁴¹ April 2023 Update Memorandum, supra note 10. See also April 2023 Minutes, supra note 11, at 5.

Mr. Salmon contended that, rather than add a rebuttable presumption to N.J.S. 19:63-26, the statute “should simply [be] repeal[ed] and maybe . . . a clarifying point [added] within 19:29-1 that the basis for an election contest must be found in that statute.” April 2023 Update Memorandum, supra note 10, at 5. In addition, Mr. Salmon opposed the change in N.J.S. 19:29-1(a) changing the language “the voters of this State” to “any eligible voter of this State.” Id. He pointed out that N.J.S. 19:29-2 requires a certain number of voter signatures to contest an election and the implication of “any eligible voter” is that “a single voter could contest the election.” Id.; see also N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:29-2. Mr. Salmon also suggested that “candidates to said election” should be added to the list of entities that may contest an election pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1 and N.J.S. 19:29-1(g) should “include public questions.” April 2023 Update Memorandum, supra note 10, at 5. Finally, Mr. Salmon proposed restructuring N.J.S. 19:29-1 to group the available grounds according to whether they constitute “offenses that, on their own, are sufficient to overturn a result, [or] require more of a demonstration (i.e., sufficient to change the results).” Id. at 5-6 (Commissioner Bell made a similar suggestion that subsections (b), (c), and (d) should be combined because they address “eligibility” for nomination or office).

Jurisdiction of ELEC Over Claims Arising Under the Reporting Act

The ELEC was created in 1973 to “administer [the] provisions” of the Reporting Act.⁴⁶ As noted by Mr. Salmon, the Appellate Division has held that election contest claims premised on Reporting Act violations generally should be heard by the ELEC in the first instance.⁴⁷

Both In re Contest of Democratic Primary Election of June 3, 2003 for Office of Assembly of Thirty-First Legislative District and Nordstrom v. Lyon address whether election contest claims based on campaign finance and reporting violations are cognizable under N.J.S. 19:29-1(h).⁴⁸ In each case, the trial court decided the election contest claim and the Appellate Division held that the Reporting Act violations should have been transferred to the ELEC after conducting a primary jurisdiction analysis.⁴⁹

- In re Contest of Democratic Primary Election of June 3, 2003 for Office of Assembly of Thirty-First Legislative District

In re Contest of Democratic Primary Election involved an election contest⁵⁰ brought pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1⁵¹ based on alleged campaign contribution violations of the Reporting Act during a primary election.⁵² The Appellate Division “conclude[d] that the Legislature intended that ELEC have primary jurisdiction over [Reporting] Act complaints not brought under either N.J.S.A. 19:44A-21 (criminal complaint) or 19:44A-22.1 (pre-election summary action).”⁵³

In reaching this determination, the Appellate Division examined the language of three Reporting Act statutes and found that the Reporting Act provides jurisdiction to either the ELEC or the court in “three different situations.”⁵⁴ N.J.S. 19:44A-22 involves (1) a “non-criminal complaint of an Act violation, which ELEC considers;” N.J.S. 19:44A-21 covers (2) “the criminal complaint, which a court considers; and” N.J.S. 19:44A-22.1 addresses (3) “the pre-election^[55] summary action proceeding, which a court considers.”⁵⁶

The Court explained that the case had “proceeded in the Law Division on the theory that a Superior Court judge can adjudicate a [Reporting] Act-based complaint as if it were an election contest under N.J.S.A. 19:29-1h.”⁵⁷ Rather than “allow a complaint of an Act violation to proceed as an election contest,” the Appellate Division directed that the complaint or relevant counts should be transferred to the ELEC “unless the judge determines to keep jurisdiction after an appropriate analysis.”⁵⁸

With respect to the “appropriate analysis,” the Appellate Division instructed trial courts to “engage in a primary jurisdiction analysis before retaining the case,” as articulated in *Muise v. GPU, Inc.*⁵⁹ In the context of an election contest claim premised on Reporting Act violations, the Court found that “prudential considerations dictate that the trial judge should ordinarily allow ELEC to hear complaints of Act violations.”⁶⁰

Therefore, the In re Contest of Democratic Primary Election Court concluded that “complaints about campaign finance violations, other than injunction actions filed during a campaign or criminal actions, presumptively should be heard by ELEC under the doctrine of primary jurisdiction.”⁶¹

- Nordstrom v. Lyon

⁵⁵ In Hammer v. N.J. Voice, Inc., the Superior Court addressed a request for injunctive relief pursuant to N.J.S. 19:44A-22.1 based on allegations of campaign financing violations of the Reporting Act. 302 N.J. Super. 169, 171 (Law. Div. 1996); see also N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:44A-22.1 (West 2023). By the time depositions and discovery were completed, the affected election had passed, and the Hammer Court concluded that “the threat of irreparable harm alleged ha[d] been rendered moot.” Hammer, 302 N.J. Super. at 175. Therefore, the Court “addressed . . . whether the Superior Court has jurisdiction under the Reporting Act and, more particularly, N.J.S.A. 19:44A–22.1, if irreparable harm does not exist.” Id. Relying on language in N.J.S. 19:44A-22.1 and -22(f), the Appellate Division found that “[a]s it relates to the issue of jurisdiction in post-election matters, the legislative intent appears to yield to the expertise of ‘ELEC.’” Id. at 177.

In Nordstrom v. Lyon, the Appellate Division addressed an election contest claim filed after the primary election, which was based on the nominated candidate’s failure to comply with reporting obligations and contribution limits under the Reporting Act.⁶² After conducting a primary jurisdiction analysis, the trial court held the winning candidate’s nomination to be “null and void.”⁶³

The Appellate Division addressed the jurisdiction of ELEC over excess contribution and reporting violations of the Reporting Act separately.⁶⁴ The Court reiterated the In re Contest of Democratic Primary Election holding that ELEC has primary, but not exclusive, jurisdiction over excess contribution claims.⁶⁵ After reviewing the Muise factors, the Appellate Division concluded that “[t]he management, control, and remediation of excess campaign contributions are best left with the agency most experienced and equipped by the Legislature to handle such matters: ELEC, not the judiciary.”⁶⁶

The Court found, however, that the “ELEC has exclusive jurisdiction regarding reporting violations” based on the “general rule [that] jurisdiction of an administrative agency may be said to be exclusive when the remedy which the agency is empowered to grant is the only available remedy for the given situation.”⁶⁷ The Court explained that “the only vehicles for nullifying an election for Reporting Act violations” are found in the Reporting Act, and the provision relied upon by the trial court (N.J.S. 19:3-7⁶⁸) “is inapplicable to [the] reporting obligations imposed by the Reporting Act.”⁶⁹

In 2023, the Appellate Division reaffirmed the Nordstrom holding in South Hunterdon.⁷⁰ Before the Appellate Division, the “[p]laintiffs argue[d] the trial court erred in dismissing [the] count . . . alleging illegal expenditures, and electioneering to steer the electorate to a ‘Yes’ vote” when it “declin[ed] to exercise jurisdiction to consider [these] Reporting Act grievances.”⁷¹

The South Hunterdon Court rejected the plaintiff’s assertion that “the court may retain jurisdiction to hear Reporting Act violations through N.J.S.A. 19:29-1(h).”⁷² Rather, the Appellate Division reaffirmed that “the better policy is to adjudicate the violation through the procedures the Legislature has expressed in the Reporting Act,” and reiterated the Nordstrom Court’s holding that “while ELEC has primary jurisdiction over excess contribution claims under the Reporting Act, it enjoys exclusive jurisdiction over alleged reporting violations.”⁷³

November 2023 Commission Meeting⁷⁴

During the November 2023 Commission meeting, the Commission requested additional revisions related to the aspect of the Atlantic County Election decision analyzing the meaning of the phrase “legal votes rejected,” in N.J.S. 19:29-1(e).⁷⁵

- Meaning of “legal votes rejected”

The Atlantic County Election Court concluded that the mail-in ballots that did not contain the Third District Commission election qualified as “legal votes rejected.”⁷⁶ In coming to this conclusion, the Appellate Division relied on the New Jersey Supreme Court’s discussion in In re Gray-Sadler.⁷⁷ The Gray-Sadler decision addressed write-in votes, rather than mail-in ballots, but

the election contest was similarly based on the rejection of legal votes pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1(e).⁷⁸

Both the Appellate Division and the Supreme Court recognized the broad and well-established policy favoring voter enfranchisement.⁷⁹ In Gray-Sadler, the Court provided that Jersey’s “election laws are designed to deter fraud, safeguard the secrecy of the ballot, and prevent disenfranchisement of qualified voters.”⁸⁰ To achieve these purposes, New Jersey courts “have held that it is [their] duty to construe election laws liberally.”⁸¹

Therefore, the Supreme Court explained that, in N.J.S. 19:29-1(e), the phrase “legal votes rejected” includes:

any situation in which qualified voters are denied access to the polls. . . . Voters need not be physically barred from voting to have their votes rejected, but may instead show that, through no fault of their own, they were prohibited from voting for a specific candidate by some irregularity in the voting procedures. . . . The essential question is whether voters were denied the opportunity to vote for a candidate of their choice.⁸²

In Gray-Sadler, “conflicting and incomplete instructions” regarding the procedure for submitting a write-in vote caused “confusion [that was] attributable to defects outside of [the voters’] control.”⁸³ The Supreme Court analogized the situation to previous cases in which an election was contested based on defective or broken voting machines.⁸⁴

The Appellate Division reached the same conclusion in Atlantic County Election.⁸⁵ The Court found that, “because the ballots sent to numerous voters in the Third District were defective, rendering voters incapable of voting for County Commissioner,” voters were “prevented . . . from voting ‘through no fault of their own’ and ‘prohibited . . . from voting for a specific candidate by

Outreach Related to the December 2023 Revised Tentative Report

Following the release of the December 2023 Revised Tentative Report, outreach was conducted to interested and knowledgeable organizations and individuals, including the attorneys who represented the parties in Atlantic County Election and in the Old Bridge election case,⁸⁸ the Attorney General’s Office, the county boards of election, the New Jersey State Bar Association and professors specializing in election law at Seton Hall University Law School.

Response was again received from Mr. Salmon, who has provided extensive assistance with this project.⁸⁹ He expressed his support for the recommended modifications, with the exception of the language in N.J.S. 19:29-1(a)⁹⁰ that “malconduct, fraud or corruption” are “sufficient to cast doubt on the validity of the result.”⁹¹ Mr. Salmon provided that this proposed language is broad and potentially expands judicial discretion beyond what was intended.⁹²

In addition, Mr. Salmon suggested that an additional modification should be made to N.J.S. 19:29-1(h)⁹³ clarifying that the section is only applicable to violations of the Reporting Act resulting in criminal charges or injunctive relief.⁹⁴ He explained that leaving subsection (h) as is, “given the creation of the new section” in N.J.S. 19:29-2, would result in “the same voter confusion without at least a clarification in [(h)] that it only applies to criminal charges or injunctions.”⁹⁵

Mr. Salmon indicated that the goal of his proposed language is to “clarif[y] both what actually may be challenged under the contest statute, as well as give a standard of how to judge

For any violation of [the Reporting Act] that results in either an injunction prior to the election or criminal charges based thereupon, when said violation is likely to have affected an election sufficient to change its results.

Id. Mr. Salmon’s proposed language originally read that the “violation is likely to have affected an election sufficient to change its results or when said violation results in it being reasonably impossible to determine the winner of the election,” but during a subsequent phone call to clarify his comments, he agreed that the quoted language accomplished his goal. Id. (emphasis added).

it.”⁹⁶ With respect to the appropriate standard, Mr. Salmon stated that, in contrast to a challenge premised on illegal or rejected votes, it is often “difficult to tell how any violation of the Reporting Act actually changed the results,” and therefore, an election challenge pursuant to subsection (h) does not need to allege that the Reporting Act violation “actually changed a specific number of votes.”⁹⁷

Comment was also received from Daniel Antonelli, who represented the respondent in the Old Bridge case.⁹⁸ Mr. Antonelli stated that he supports the recommended modification codifying the holding of Atlantic County Election because doing so eliminates any “dispute who has the burden of proof.”⁹⁹ Mr. Antonelli noted, however, that additional clarity would be of assistance regarding the jurisdictional issue.¹⁰⁰ He described a case involving reporting violations of the Reporting Act wherein a “trial court judge said he was bound by Nordstrom and didn’t have jurisdiction” although the complaint requested injunctive relief and was filed prior to the election.¹⁰¹

Mr. Antonelli suggested therefore that “clarity could be provided that while the ELEC has primary jurisdiction, in cases where there is an allegation that a candidate has not complied with the reporting requirements, that is filed before the election, the court should have limited jurisdiction to hear the application” before transferring the matter to the ELEC.¹⁰²

Passaic County Board of Elections, et. al.*, Docket No. PAS-L-1751-20 (N.J. Sup. Ct. Aug. 19, 2020) [hereinafter “McKoy Statement of Reasons”]. The election challenge in McKoy was premised on “allegations of election fraud rising to the level of criminal charges” against one of the candidates, following the discovery of hundreds of mail-in ballots in a mailbox in an adjacent town, as well as a “substantial number of ballots [that] were left on the floor in an apartment building rather than being delivered to the individual mailboxes of the residents.” Id. at *1. Conclusion

In accordance with the holding of Atlantic County Election, the recommended modifications to N.J.S. 19:63-26 add language clarifying that, despite its prohibitive language, an election involving mail-in ballots may be contested by establishing one of the grounds in N.J.S. 19:29-1. Additional recommended modifications to N.J.S. 19:29-1 reflect feedback received from commenters and the guidance of the Commission, including language articulating the scope of the phrase “legal votes rejected,” as discussed in Gray-Sadler and Atlantic County Election.

Modifications that reflect the scope of ELEC’s jurisdiction over Reporting Act violations, as held in In re Contest of Democratic Primary Election and Nordstrom, among other Appellate Division decisions, are recommended to the Reporting Act and N.J.S. 19:29-2.

APPENDIX

The recommended modifications to N.J.S. 19:63-26, “Validity of election due to irregularity or failure in mail-in ballot processing”; N.J.S. 19:29-1, “Grounds stated”; N.J.S. 19:29-2, “Petition filed with Clerk of Superior Court; contents; verification; bond to incumbent”; and the Reporting Act, are shown on the following pages (with ~~strikethrough~~, underlining, italics,¹⁰³ and bold¹⁰⁴).

N.J.S. 19:63-26. Validity of election due to irregularity or failure in mail-in ballot processing a. ~~No~~¹⁰⁵ An election shall not be held to be invalid solely¹⁰⁶ due to any irregularity or failure in the preparation or forwarding of any mail-in ballots prepared or forwarded pursuant to the provisions of P.L.2009, c. 79 (C.19:63-1 et al.), unless one or more of the grounds set forth in N.J.S. 19:29-1 is established.

b. ~~This section establishes a rebuttable presumption that an irregularity or failure in the preparation or forwarding of any mail-in ballots shall not invalidate an election. This presumption may be rebutted by establishing one or more of the grounds set forth in N.J.S. 19:29-1 as a basis to invalidate an election.~~

COMMENT

The recommended modifications replace the language “No election shall be held to be invalid due to . . .” with “An election shall not be held to be invalid solely due to . . .,” to indicate that a vote by mail election may be contested pursuant to N.J.S. 19:29-1.¹⁰⁷

In addition, the modifications add language to the end of N.J.S. 19:63-26 making clear that an election by mail may be held invalid if any of the grounds in N.J.S. 19:29-1 is established, to reflect the holding of the Atlantic County Election Court.¹⁰⁸

¹⁰³ Italicized language represents language that has been modified since the release of the October 2022 Tentative Report.

¹⁰⁴ Bolded language represents revisions made since the October 2023 Commission meeting, including modifications since the November and December 2023 Commission meetings.

¹⁰⁶ See id. (“Commissioner Bunn . . . suggested in [N.J.S. 19:63-26(a)] adding in the word ‘solely’ so that it reads ‘An election shall not be held to be invalid “solely” due to any irregularity’”).

¹⁰⁸ During the October 2023 Commission meeting, Commissioner Long pointed out that, although the Court characterized it as a “rebuttable presumption” in the Atlantic County Election decision, the statute’s intent is that mail-in ballot irregularities alone will not invalidate an election, but if another independent standard is met, like those set forth in N.J.S. 19:29-1, the election may be invalidated. October 2023 Minutes, supra note 74, at 5-6.

N.J.S. 19:29-1. Grounds stated

a. The nomination or election of any person to any public office or party position, or the approval or disapproval of any public proposition, may be contested by ~~the any eligible~~ requisite number of voters of this State or of any of its political subdivisions affected thereby, as specified in N.J.S.A. 19:29-2,¹⁰⁹ *or by any defeated candidate for such nomination, party position or public office,*¹¹⁰ upon ~~± one~~ or more of the following grounds:

a. 1. ~~When Malconduct, fraud or corruption on the part of the members of any district board, or of any members of the board of county canvassers, is sufficient to cast~~ doubt on the validity of the nomination or election challenge¹¹¹ the result;

b. 2. When the incumbent was not eligible ~~to for~~¹¹² the office at the time of the election;¹¹³

¹⁰⁹ See October 2023 Minutes, supra note 74, at 6 (adopting a proposal by Commissioner Bell).

¹¹⁰ Following the release of the October 2022 Tentative Report, Mr. Salmon suggested that N.J.S. 19:29-1 should include “candidates to said election” in the list of entities that may bring an election contest. See supra note 41. The recommended language is derived from N.J.S. 19:29-2, which permits “any defeated candidate for such nomination, party position or public office” to sign the petition contesting an election. N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:29-2.

¹¹¹ Given that the language “sufficient to cast doubt on the validity of the result” has not yet been interpreted by the courts, commenters questioned whether this language might inadvertently broaden the reach of this subsection or cause unnecessary litigation over the meaning of the new phrase. See 2024 Salmon E-Mail, supra note 89. The language “sufficient to challenge the result” has been included in N.J.S. 19:29-1(a) since the statute’s enactment in 1930. See L.1930, c. 187, ¶ 355, p.829. The New Jersey Supreme Court has twice held that the phrase is understood to mean “to call in question; dispute” and there does not appear to be any inconsistency in the judicial interpretations of the standard set forth in subsection (a). See Petition of Clee, 119 N.J.L. 310, 316 (Sup. Ct. 1938) (“It will be noticed that the malconduct, fraud, or corruption, stated as a ground for contest under the first heading, must be such as to challenge the result of the election. ‘Challenge’ means to put into dispute or to put in question. It is defined thus: ‘To call in question; dispute.’”) (quoting Funk & Wagnalls New Standard Dictionary, 1932) (emphasis added); and Burkett v. Francesconi, 127 N.J.L. 541, 543 (Sup. Ct. 1942) (“Then it is argued that the word ‘challenge’ mentioned in the statute above quoted, subdivision ‘a’, means ‘to call in question, dispute or doubtful.’ This, too, may be conceded.”) (citing Clee, 119 N.J.L. 310, 316 (1938) (emphasis added)). To avoid any potential confusion caused by introducing different language into the statute, the recommended modification retains the original statutory language, that the “malconduct, fraud or corruption” must be sufficient to “challenge the result.” N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:29-1(a) (emphasis added).

¹¹² See October 2023 Minutes, supra note 74, at 6 (adopting a proposal by Commissioner Bell).

a candidate for election to the Legislature must meet the qualifications for office set forth in the New Jersey Constitution, Art. IV, §1, par. 2 as follows: he must satisfy the minimum age requirement by the day he is sworn into office; he must meet the citizenship and residency requirements by election day, and he must be entitled to the right of suffrage on the day that he files a certificate with the Secretary of State accepting the nomination, be it as an accompaniment to his petition or in response to a write-in vote.

Attorney General John J. Degan Formal Opinion No. 5, addressed to Hon. Donald P. Lam (Feb. 26, 1980) (on file with NJLRC).

e. 3. When the incumbent had been duly convicted before such election of any crime which would render him incompetent to exercise the right of suffrage, and the incumbent had not been pardoned at the time of the election;

~~d.~~ 4. When the incumbent had given or offered to any elector or any member of any district board, clerk or canvasser, any bribe or reward, in money, property or thing of value for the purpose of procuring his election;

e. 5. When illegal votes have been received, or legal votes rejected at the polls in sufficient numbers to change the result, A legal vote, including a vote by mail, is rejected when, a qualified voter, through no fault on the voter's part, has not been provided the opportunity to vote for a specific candidate, either due to a defect in the ballot, an irregularity in the voting procedures, or denial of access to the polls. If the defect permits the voter to vote for candidates for other races on the ballot, the legal vote is rejected only for those races involving candidates for which the voter was not provided the opportunity to vote;¹¹⁴

f. 6. For any error by any board of canvassers in counting the votes or declaring the result of the election, if such error would change the result;

~~g.~~ 7. For any other cause which shows that another ~~was the~~ person was legally elected or another outcome on a public proposition was the legal result;¹¹⁵

~~h.~~ 8. The paying, promise to pay or expenditure of any money or other thing of value or incurring of any liability in excess of the amount permitted by this title for any purpose or in any manner not authorized by this title, except as subject to the jurisdiction of the Election Law Enforcement Commission in N.J.S. 19:44A-11¹¹⁶;

~~i.~~ 9. When a petition for nomination is not filed in good faith or the affidavit annexed thereto is false or defective.

¹¹⁴ See E-Mail from Commissioner Bernard Bell, NJLRC, to Laura C. Tharney, Executive Director, NJLRC; Samuel M. Silver, Deputy Director, NJLRC; and Carol Disla-Roa, Legislative Fellow, NJLRC (Dec. 13, 2023, 12:25 PM EST) (on file with NJLRC) [hereinafter “Bell E-mail”] (providing to Staff a memorandum detailing comments and revisions to the proposed modifications contained in the December 2023 Revised Draft Tentative Report).

¹¹⁵ This language was derived from a proposal by Mr. Salmon. See supra note 41.

¹¹⁶ During the October 2023 Commission meeting, Commissioner Bunn recommended that this modification should be made to a different statute, given that the purpose of N.J.S. 19:29-1 is to set forth the grounds for an election contest, rather than the appropriate venue for an election contest. October 2023 Minutes, supra note 74, at 5.

In his response to the Tentative Report, Mr. Salmon suggested an additional modification clarifying that this subsection applies only to those Reporting Act violations not subject to the jurisdiction of the ELEC, namely violations arising under N.J.S. 19:44A-21 (criminal complaints) and N.J.S. 19:44A-22.1 (summary actions). See 2024 Salmon E-Mail, supra note 89 (proposing the following language: “For any violation of [the Reporting Act] that results in either an injunction prior to the election or criminal charges based thereupon, when said violation is likely to have affected an election sufficient to change its results”) (emphasis added). He further proposed that the new language should parallel the structure of the recommended language in subsection (e) and include a standard for reviewing election challenges premised on Reporting Act violations. Id. (explaining the proposed language clarifies that a party is not required “to prove that the criminal charges [or other Reporting Act violation] actually changed a specific number of votes”) (citing McKoy Statement of Reasons, supra note 97).

b. The term “incumbent” means the person whom the canvassers declare elected or the person who is declared elected as a result of a recount; but in the case of a tie vote as a result of the canvass or recount, either party may contest the election, in which case the term “incumbent” means the person having an equal number of votes with the contestant.

~~c. The grounds set forth in subsection (a) of this section may rebut the presumption pursuant to N.J.S. 19:63-26.~~¹¹⁷

COMMENT

The statute has been re-lettered and numbered to improve accessibility, in keeping with current statutory drafting practices.

Subsection (a)

In the introductory paragraph in subsection (a), the recommended modifications replace the language “voters of this State” with the language “the requisite number of voters of this State . . . as set forth in N.J.S.A. 19:29-2” to clarify that N.J.S. 19:29-2 requires multiple voter signatures to file an election contest petition.¹¹⁸ The modifications also add that a petition may be brought by “any defeated candidate for such nomination, party position or public office,” as permitted by N.J.S. 19:29-2.¹¹⁹

Subsection (a)(1)

In subsection (a)(1), the language is modified to be consistent with subsequent subsections by beginning the subsection with the word “when.”¹²⁰

Previously, the proposed modifications replaced the phrase “sufficient to challenge” with language indicating that the misconduct, fraud or corruption must be “sufficient to cast doubt on the validity” of the outcome.¹²¹ However, given the response from commenters that new language may prompt unnecessary litigation,¹²² and in light of the courts’ consistent interpretation of the phrase “sufficient to challenge the result,”¹²³ no modification is recommended with respect to this language.

Subsection (a)(2)

The modification to subsection (a)(2) replaces the word “for” with “to” to improve readability.¹²⁴

¹¹⁷ As noted supra at note 108, Commissioner Long’s clarification of the proposed modifications to N.J.S. 19:63-26 render this modification unnecessary. See also October 2023 Minutes, supra note 74, at 5-6.

¹¹⁸ N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:29-2; see supra note 109.

¹¹⁹ N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:29-2 (“[i]n the case of an office or proposition voted for by the voters of the entire State or more than 1 county thereof, the contest shall . . . be commenced by the filing of a petition . . . signed by at least 25 voters . . . or by any defeated candidate for such nomination, party position or public office” and “[i]n all other cases the contest shall . . . be commenced by the filing of a petition . . . signed by at least 15 voters . . . or by any defeated candidate for such nomination, party position or public office”) (emphasis added).

¹²³ See supra note 111.

¹²⁴ October 2023 Minutes, supra note 74, at 6.

Subsection (a)(5)

In subsection (a)(5), the recommended modifications eliminate the phrase “at the polls” as it is not clear that this language is necessary to convey the legislative intent that illegal votes or rejected legal votes in sufficient numbers may form the basis for an election contest claim.¹²⁵

In addition, the modifications add language reflecting the aspect of the Atlantic County Election holding addressing whether the defective mail-in ballots fell within the scope of “legal votes rejected” in N.J.S. 19:29-1(e).¹²⁶ The recommended language clarifies that a vote by mail is a legal vote that can be rejected.¹²⁷ The remaining language was proposed by Commissioner Bell prior to the November 2023 Commission meeting and approved by the Commission during the meeting.¹²⁸ The language is derived from the decisions in Atlantic County Election and Gray-Sadler.¹²⁹

The final sentence of the new language is intended to “ensur[e] that a denial of the opportunity to select from among all candidates in one race, does not necessarily invalidate other races on the same ballot in which voters were given the opportunity to select from all candidates.”¹³⁰

Subsection (a)(7)

The proposed modifications to subsection (a)(7) add language clarifying that the provision is applicable to elections and public propositions, as suggested by Mr. Salmon.¹³¹

Subsection (b)

There are no modifications proposed with respect to the substance of subsection (b), which has been re-lettered consistent with modern statutory drafting practice.

N.J.S. 19:29-2. Petition filed with Clerk of Superior Court; contents; verification; bond to incumbent a. In the case of an office or proposition voted for by the voters of the entire State or more than 1 county thereof, the contest shall be heard by any judge of the Superior Court assigned for that purpose by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and shall be commenced by the filing of a petition therefor with the Clerk of the Superior Court signed by at least 25 voters of the State or by any defeated candidate for such nomination, party position or public office.

b. In all other cases the contest shall be heard and determined by a judge of the Superior Court assigned to the county wherein such office or proposition is to be contested, and shall be commenced by the filing of a petition therefor with the Clerk of the Superior Court, signed by at least 15 voters of the county or by any defeated candidate for such nomination, party position or public office.

c. The petition shall be verified by the oath of at least 2 of the petitioners, or by the candidate filing the same, as the case may be, which verification may be made on information and belief. The petition shall be accompanied by a bond to the State in the case approval or disapproval of any proposition is to be contested and to the incumbent in all other cases, with 2 or more sureties, or a deposit of cash security, to be approved by such judge, in the penal sum of $500.00, conditioned to pay all costs in case the election be confirmed, or the petition be dismissed or the prosecution fail. When the reception of illegal or the rejection of legal voters is alleged as a cause of contest, the names of the persons who so voted, or whose votes were rejected, with the election district where they voted, or offered to vote, shall be set forth in the petition, if known.

d. No petition heretofore filed pursuant to this section shall be dismissed or the prosecution fail because the petitioner shall not have filed a bond with sureties as required herein, and the court shall be construed to have acquired jurisdiction to hear and determine such contest if the petitioner shall have filed with the petition a bond, without sureties, in the penal sum of $500.00, conditioned as required in this section, with a deposit of $500.00 as cash security therefor, approved by a judge of the Superior Court.

e. When a petition filed pursuant to this section alleges a violation of the provisions of “The New Jersey Campaign Contributions and Expenditures Reporting Act,” P.L.1973, c. 83 (C.19:44A-1 et seq.), the Election Law Enforcement Commission shall have:

(1) exclusive jurisdiction over violations of reporting requirements in P.L.1973, c. 83 (C.19:44A-1 et seq.); and

(2) primary jurisdiction over violations of any other requirements in P.L.1973, c. 83 (C.19:44A-1 et seq.).

COMMENT

The paragraphs in N.J.S. 19:29-2 have been lettered to improve readability and accessibility.

Subsection (e) has been added to clarify that, when a petition contains an allegation of a Reporting Act violation, the violations are subject to either the primary or exclusive jurisdiction of ELEC, depending on the type of violation. This language reflects the holdings in In re Democratic Primary Election and Nordstrom.¹³²

The recommended language hews as closely as possible to the modifications in the Reporting Act, clarifying the scope of ELEC's jurisdiction over different types of violations of the Reporting Act.

¹³² See supra at pp. 7-9.

N.J.S. 19:44A-[] (new section)

Subject to the provisions of N.J.S. 19:44A-21 and N.J.S. 19:44A-22.1, the Election Law Enforcement Commission shall have:

(a) exclusive jurisdiction over violations of the reporting requirements of this Act; and

(b) primary jurisdiction over violations of all other requirements of this Act.

COMMENT

To clarify the scope of the ELEC’s jurisdiction over different types of Reporting Act violations, the recommended modifications create a new statutory section in the Reporting Act reflecting the common law on this issue.¹³³ The current Reporting Act does not clearly define the breadth of ELEC’s jurisdiction and appellate courts have crafted the jurisdictional scope of ELEC over Reporting Act violations in various contexts, including election contest claims, by relying on jurisdictional principles and statutory language.¹³⁴

Subsection (a)-(b)

The introductory sentence sets forth that ELEC maintains jurisdiction over Reporting Act violations, subject to the provisions in N.J.S. 19:44A-21, which addresses the filing of a criminal complaint, and N.J.S. 19:44A-22.1, which addresses pre-election summary actions for injunctive relief.¹³⁵

¹³³ See id.

¹³⁴ See infra at p. 23.

¹³⁵ N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:44A-21; N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:44A-22.1.

With respect to Mr. Antonelli’s comment that the modifications should make clear that a court has jurisdiction over requests for injunctive relief made before an election that are related to reporting violations of the Reporting Act, see Antonelli E-Mail, supra note 98, the exclusion of complaints brought pursuant to N.J.S. 19:44A-22.1 from the jurisdiction of the ELEC was intended to address this issue. See N.J. STAT. ANN. § 19:44A-22.1 (“If a political committee or continuing political committee . . . shall have made any contribution or expenditure in opposition to, or in furtherance of the defeat of, a candidate, that candidate may, in a summary action in the Superior Court, apply for an order directing that political committee or continuing political committee to show cause why the court should not grant such injunctive relief as the candidate may seek.”) (emphasis added); see also Markwardt v. New Beginnings, 304 N.J. Super. 522, 537 (App. Div. 1997) (“We construe N.J.S.A. 19:44A-22.1 consonant with its obvious purpose—to afford an aggrieved candidate a judicial remedy in order to prevent irreparable injury.”). Mr. Antonelli indicated that the judge in Shaw v. Holley relied on Nordstrom to find that the ELEC retained jurisdiction. See supra note 101. However, the Nordstrom Court excluded summary actions under N.J.S. 19:44A-22.1 from its determination of the jurisdictional issue:

N.J.S.A. 19:44A-16 comprehensively details candidates' reporting obligations. Failure to comply with the statute and its implementing regulations, see e.g., N.J.A.C. 19:25-8.1 to -8.12, exposes applicable persons—including candidates—to an array of penalties, including potential criminal sanctions found in N.J.S.A. 19:44A-21(b), and civil remedies found in N.J.S.A. 19:44A-22(a)(1). Except for criminal matters and summary actions under N.J.S.A. 19:44A-22.1, judicial involvement is extremely limited.

Nordstrom, 424 N.J. Super. at 98 (emphasis added). To the extent that N.J.S. 19:44A-22.1 does not cover the factual scenario addressed in Shaw, Staff has not located any judicial opinion or legislative history directly on point regarding this issue.

Subsection (a) sets forth the holding in Nordstrom, which provides that ELEC maintains exclusive jurisdiction over reporting violations of the Reporting Act.¹³⁶

Subsection (b) provides that ELEC has primary jurisdiction over all other violations of the Reporting Act. This language reflects that appellate courts have held that ELEC maintains primary jurisdiction over different types of Reporting Act violations both in and outside the context of an election contest claim.

The In re Contest of Democratic Primary Election Court determined that “the Legislature intended that ELEC have primary jurisdiction over [Reporting] Act complaints not brought under either N.J.S.A. 19:44A-21 (criminal complaint) or 19:44A-22.1 (pre-election summary action).”¹³⁷ In Nordstrom, the Appellate Division held that “ELEC has primary jurisdiction over excess contribution claims under the Reporting Act.”¹³⁸ In South Hunterdon, the Appellate Division found the trial court properly declined jurisdiction over claims of “illegal expenditures” after conducting a primary jurisdiction analysis.¹³⁹

Courts have also addressed the ELEC’s jurisdiction over Reporting Act violations outside the context of an election contest claim. In New Jersey Election Law Enforcement Commission v. James, the Appellate Division considered whether the trial court appropriately retained jurisdiction over a complaint filed by the ELEC that alleged misuse of campaign funds to cover legal fees.¹⁴⁰ After conducting a primary jurisdiction analysis, the Court held that “under these narrow, limited factual circumstances, the court does have subject matter jurisdiction.”¹⁴¹

Similarly, in Brennan on behalf of State v. Lonegan, the Appellate Division considered a complaint filed pursuant to the False Claims Act (“FCA”), which alleged that a candidate “submit[ed] a false statement in a request for public campaign funds.”¹⁴² The Brennan Court found that the ELEC “maintains jurisdiction over claims arising out of the Reporting Act,” and although the complaint “allege[d] a violation of the FCA, . . . the underlying accusation . . . is a Reporting Act violation.”¹⁴³
